Sunday Morning Matinee · 80: National Treasure

Really, this is what this podcast was made for. We watched a bonkers movie and then talked with noted political science smart person Steve Bragaw about conspiracies, theology, scripture, and hermeneutics. Then we tried to ask how Pentecost might be understood in light of the themes of National Treasure. We were built for this (and maybe only this). So far down the rabbit hole with us, it's time for Sunday Morning Matinee.
